

Change of CEO at Jetpak Group AB

Jetpak's current CEO, Henrik Ringmar has decided to leave his position for another role outside Jetpak. The board has appointed Kenneth Marx as the new CEO for Jetpak Group AB as of Jan 1st 2016.

- Jetpak has had an exciting development the last years, with geographical expansion for express services as well as growth within local distribution, often connected to the expanding e-commerce market. During my time in the company, I am proud to have been part of having improved our customer interactions and developed our services. I see this as a good moment to hand over the responsibility of Jetpak to Kenneth Marx. He has excellent qualifications to continue create profitable growth for Jetpak, says resigning CEO Henrik Ringmar.
- I want to thank Henrik for excellent and qualitative work and for committed cooperation. Henrik has put a strong mark on Jetpak's strategic- and structural development, says Chairman John Dueholm and continues:
- The board has appointed Kenneth Marx as new CEO at Jetpak. Kenneth is 51 years old and has extensive experience from the logistics industry, where he earlier held the position as CEO of SAS Cargo. He is now Nordic Director, Supply Chain at the Dutch company, Mediq.
